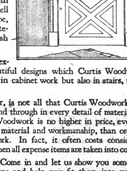
Two Hundred Years Old and Still Good



IN the recently opened American Wing of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City, hundreds of passersby stop every day to admire the original china closet from which the design illustrated here was taken. It is over 200 years old.

That old cabinet is faithfully reproduced in Curtis Woodwork for your home today. While especially adapted to the Colonial house, it will also look well in the home of English type, and it has also been tastefully used in Spanish houses.

This china closet is an example of the many beautiful designs which Curtis Woodwork offers home-builders, not only in cabinet work but also in stairs, trim, doors, windows, frames.

Design alone, however, is not all that Curtis Woodwork offers you. It has quality through and through in every detail of materials and construction. Yet Curtis Woodwork is no higher in price, even if it does give you better designs, material and workmanship, than ordinary millwork. In fact, it often costs considerably less when all expense items are taken into consideration.

CURTIS — See that the woodwork you buy bears this trademark —the Curtis guarantee of quality

Come in and let us show you some Curtis designs and help you fit them into your building plans. Ask for the free booklet, "Curtis Woodwork," helpful and interesting to builders.

Virginia State Briefs

Luray.—Steps that have just been taken in organizing the "Merchants' Association" in Luray, it is believed, will enhance the town's prestige as a shopping center.

Danville.—Martinsville's new branch of Masonry, the George W. Wright Commandery, Knights Templar, has received its dispensation from Richmond and is now securing members.

Richmond.—The "History of Caroline county," which has been published by Rev. Marshall Wingfield, is one of the most complete works of the kind that has been issued in Virginia.

East Radford.—The faculty of State Teachers' College at Radford will have an active part on the program which has been announced for the State Teachers' Association.

University.—Virginia's football team for next season will meet practically the same teams that are on the schedule this year. It is an all-Southern schedule.

Harrisonburg.—Governor-elect Harry Flood Byrd wound up a week of hunting by bagging a big wild turkey in the Brocks Gap section of Rockingham, where such game is plentiful.

Morrisonburg.— Forty-three Harrisonburg business men have volunteered as solicitors in the renewing of the "Buy Acres" drive in the city for the Shenandoah National Park.

Harrisonburg.—Valley Odd Fellows will stage a big rally and parade here December 10, it has been announced, which will attract several hundred members of the order from throughout this section of Virginia.

Pulaski.—Dr. D. E. Seagle has been notified by Governor Trinkle of his appointment to the State Board of Pharmacy, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. W. D. Clark, of Portsmouth.

Staunton.—To be constructed at a cost of between $200,000 and $225,000, the architect's plans have been completed for Staunton's new high school building, and the school board is advertising for bids.

Lynchburg.—J. W. Tweedy, 63, resident of Lynchburg, died at the Lynchburg Hospital, from injuries sustained Saturday when he was struck by an automobile driven, it is alleged, by T. D. Carter, 16, of Tyreeanna.

Luray.—J. Thomas Presgraves, for forty-five years in continuous service of the Norfolk and Western Railway, much of the time in this county—has just been retired by that road on a pension.

Richmond. — Construction of Virginia's War Memorial will be well under way when the next General Assembly convenes, and the cornerstone will be laid on some day between January 15 and February 1.

Lynchburg.—C. M. Milam, lookout in the Federal Forest Service on Apple Orchard Mountain, worked two weeks with several fractured ribs, which he sustained in a fall over stumps, while at work.

Norfolk.—A deal was closed here for 40,000 acres of land at Nansemond Harbor at a price of approximately half a million dollars and on which it is proposed to establish one of the largest knitting mills in the country.

Lynchburg.—The sales of dark loose leaf tobacco on the Lynchburg open market during the past week aggregated 567,600 pounds, according to the report made by John D. Oglesby of the Lynchburg tobacco warehouse corporation.

Luray.—Old residents of the Blue Ridge are making preparations for what they say will be an unusually hard winter. They are reading certain "signs" in the heavens telling of deep and upheard-of snows and weather in bitterness that has never been equaled.

Richmond.—That the wicked shall be judged according to the opportunities they have had was the thought stressed by Evangelist Louis Entzminger in Grove Avenue Baptist Church, where he spoke on the question so often asked: "Will all who are finally lost be punished alike or will some suffer greater punishment than others?"

Richmond.—Returns for the election of the Commissioner of Agriculture, the Superintendent of Public Instruction and the State Corporation Commissioner were canvassed by the State Board of Canvassers, which is composed of the Governor, the Secretary of the Commonwealth, the Attorney-General, the Auditor of Public Accounts, and the Treasurer.

Luray.—The "walnut kernel business," for perhaps a century one of the sources of big revenue among a certain class of people in this county, especially those living in the mountain districts and along water courses is an almost total failure this year.

Harrisonburg.—Walter Maddox, 14, son of W. D. Maddox, of Lacey Spring, was accidentally shot through the breast with a .32 calibre rifle while out scanning for English sparrows with his cousin, Gordon Sprinkle, of Harrisonburg.

PAUL IN MELITA AND ROME

LESSON TEXT—Acts 28:1-31.

GOLDEN TEXT—"I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation, to every one that believeth."—Rom. 1:16.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul the Helper.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul in the World's Capital.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Prisoner Preaching.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Power of the Gospel.

I. The Shipwreck on Melita (vv. 1-10).

Through the storm they lost their bearings, and when they were safe on land they learned that the island was called Melita. Their experiences here may be noted as follows:

1. The Hospitable Reception of the Natives (v. 2).

They built a fire and made the shipwrecked people as comfortable as possible in cold and rain.

2. Paul Gathering Sticks for a Fire (v. 3).

The world's greatest preacher and missionary, yet he was not above picking up sticks for a fire. All along the journey Paul busied himself in doing all that he could to help some one. Any service rendered in the right spirit is holy work.

3. Paul Bitten by a Venomous Serpent (v. 3).

Among the sticks that Paul gathered was a serpent. Perhaps it had already coiled itself up for its winter's sleep, but aroused by the warmth of the fire, it darted at Paul and fixed its fangs upon his hand. This was a serious thing. The natives expected to see him fall down dead. Yet he shook it off, unharmed. At first the natives concluded that he was an escaped murderer, and that retributive justice was being meted out to him. When they saw he was unharmed they concluded that he was a god. In the popular mind a man soon passes from a murderer to a god, or more frequently the reverse is true.

4. Paul Heals Publius' Father (vv. 7-10).

Those people now received some return for their kindness. When this man of note was healed, others came and were healed also.

II. Paul's Arrival At Rome (vv. 11-16).

When Paul reached Rome Christ's charge to the disciples was fulfilled. After three month's stay at Melita Paul departed for Rome in the ship of Alexandria, whose sign was Castor and Pollux. At Syracuse they were delayed three days, perhaps for favorable winds. At Puteoli he found brethren at whose request he tarried seven days, after which he again set his face towards Rome. At Appii Forum and at Three Tavern brethren from Rome met him. From Puteoli the news went before of Paul's coming, and so interested were the brethren that they came for more than forty miles to meet him. This greatly encouraged him and he gave God thanks. He greatly cherished the fellowship of other Christians and was much helped thereby. This was the first city in all his missionary life that thus welcomed him. It was typical of the welcome that was given to the gospel by the Gentile world. He was treated with great leniency at Rome for he was allowed to hire a house and live apart, except that he was constantly with him. Being chained to a soldier was rather irksome, yet it gave him a chance to preach to the soldiers, which he could not have had in any other way.

III. Paul's Ministry in Rome (vv. 17-31).

1. His Conference With the Leading Jews (vv. 17-22).

He did not do as usual, wait for the Sabbath day to speak to the Jews. He allowed only one day for rest, the subject being to have a fair understanding with them. When they came he endeavored to conciliate them. He told them that though no cause as a prisoner, he was not a criminal. Though his own countrymen had sought his life he did not come with accusations against them. The result of this interview was that the Jews cautiously took neutral ground, but expressed a desire to hear what Paul could say in defense of a sect which was everywhere spoken against.

2. Paul Preaching the Kingdom of God and Persuading Concerning Jesus (vv. 23-31).

He pointed out a real kingdom—the Messianic kingdom with the Messiah Jesus as the king. The kingdom to Paul meant a definite reign of a definite person, not simply an improved state of society. This he showed from the Scriptures.

Small Things; Great Things

You are waiting to do some great thing; you are waiting to pull down some great evil. Perform the small things that are unseen, and they will bring other and greater things for you to perform.—John Bright.

Leading Us Along

In denying ourselves, Jesus is not asking us to finite ourselves. He is, rather, leading us along the road in which we shall find self.—G. Glenn Atkins.

ROCKS NEWS

Miss Pattie Almond gave a party Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Holmay Ingle in honor of Virginia Ross, Neva Morris, Willie Hamilton and John Parris, of Lynchburg. A very nice time was reported by all who were present, who were Ethel Anderson, Ella Epperly, Annie Rufus, Ida and Frances Cawthorn, Hutson, Clyde, Nellie and Daisy Dickerson Harry Russel, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hamilton, Captain Covington, Otis, Jim, and Charlie Ramey, Mrs. Flossy Stinson, Dorothy and Florence Stinson, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Ingo, Zelia, Laura, Richard and Toby Ingo. Miss Virginia Ross and John Parris, entertained the crowd with music, "Guitar and Ukulele."

Miss Flossy Stinson and two daughters of Lynchburg, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Almond."

Mr. Robert Almond, of Lynchburg, is visiting his mother, Mrs. W. J. Almond, he has been sick quite a while, but is now improving we are glad to say.

There will be a "box supper" at Rocks school house next Saturday night December 12, for the benefit of the school. "Everybody" come! Don't forget it! Be on time! Begins at 8 o'clock.

Misses Ethel Anderson and Ella Epperly were week end guests of Mrs. D. W. Dinkins.

PROSPECT

Hunter Wilkerson, of Prospect, is the efficient book keeper at the Planter's Warehouse in Farmville.

The Farmville Auction Market reports an average price for tobacco sold this season up to Thanksgiving of $18.30. Much of the inferior grades were sold in the early opening weeks and of course splendid seasons have set in the good tobacco is coming in and prices seem to satisfy those who have sold from Prospect this season. Dillwyn market reports an average paid for the last week in November of $21.70.

A great crop of turkeys was raised in Prospect district this year and between four and five thousand pounds of turkeys were shipped from the station here during Thanksgiving week.

The members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at Prospect are a live business set, they got an emergency call Sunday evening from a woman in distress, they held a called meeting that night and at 8:30 of a cold frosty morning a committee of four got in a high powered car with a hand full of bank notes, and they went to the relief of their fellow woman. Women are coming to the front, and if they are responding the calls of distress every where like they are doing at Prospect, I take off my hat and bid them God speed.

WOODLAND

Mr. Hermon Marshall has returned to his work in Lynchburg, after spending the week at home.

Miss Louise Oaks was the guest of Miss Olivia Rush Saturday.

There will be a Christmas tree given at Woodland school on December 23rd. Refreshments will be served. Everybody come and have a good time.

Mr. Paul and Miss Beatrice Woodson were the guests of Mr. C. R. Woodson.

BUCKINGHAM

Besides a great crop of tame turkeys a great number of wild turkeys are reported in some parts of the county. Four were killed near the court house Thanksgiving. T. H. Spencer killed one and his little son, Addison, killed one also.

A lovely set of young ladies are here, some of whom live here and others are here to attend the splendid high school. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Robinson are again here for the school term and have with them Miss Emma Glover, Mrs. Robinson's daughter by a former marriage at school.

Mrs. P. E. Tucker's health seems much improved at a Richmond hospital.

Misses Sarah Hubard, Martha Hamaker, Fannie Barrell, Louise Morris, and Louise Boatwright are all great additions to the social life of this place.

Postmaster Jones has remodeled his home and also built a new post-office and a brick garage. Mr. Garret has added to his brick store house. Mr. Spencer has enlarged his store house.

Miss Rosa Murphy has built a beautiful bungalo. the Masons have built a fine new Masonic Hall, the mail facilities are fine, there is regular preaching at the three churches, the crops through this section were better than in other localities, as a there was more rain during the summer.

Mr. John Glover got one of his feet painfully cut at a wood saw and he has to lay up for several weeks at his home. Mr. Price Glover was cut by a wood saw several years ago, both of them are fine men and usually so careful we wonder why they should have these accidents.

Mrs John Glover spent some weeks in North Carolina with her sister, Mrs. John Coston.

This fall since Dr. Morris has been supervisor in Mayaville district there has been much improvement in the roads.

Mrs. Sue Spencer and Mrs. Alma Pearson are still keeping up the reputation, the village has enjoyed of having the best meals to be found in the country.

I remember when there were five bar rooms in operation at Buckingham court house and a certain set were noted far and wide for their proclivities for card playing, I also recall when the road was choke deep here, and there were a set of women unlike Caesar's wife, the jail was often crowded, and now presto change, no bar rooms, no gambling dens, not much mud, jail often empty, people go to church and Sunday school. There is one of the best school buildings here to be found in this part of the state.

VERA

Have you done your Xmas shopping? Shop early and mail early are the slogans for this glad time, and in spending, don't forget poor starving humanity in the "Near East." A drive is on for these poor unfortunates. Get in touch with them and do your bit.

The sale of seals for the "turkeyclosis fund" opened Saturday. Another organization which should also be heartily endorsed, substantially.

Our community was saddened Sunday morning by the intelligence fo the passing away of Miss Neal Jones Saturday night. Miss Jones has lived in this neighborhood for many years, and was beloved by all who knew her for her unselfishness and lovely christian character. She will be missed by many, but most by her faithful and untiring sister, Miss Ida, who has been her constant companion through her long illness. God is calling His saints home, gathering up his jewels. What a comfort it must be to realize that she may be one of His elect—a member of the body of Christ the Church.

Thanksgiving passed off quietly in this section. Quite a number of city visitors took occasion to visit their "country cousins" and do some hunting on the side. The schools which closed for the holiday are in full swing once more.

A great many of our citizens are carrying tobacco to Lynchburg and incidentally doing their Xmas shopping.

Men and Money Make this Bank Secure.

THERE are two ways of measuring the strength and standing of a bank. In the first place money resources—capital and surplus—give it financial strength.

In the second place—and perhaps even more important—are men, the officers and directors. They give the bank character, determine and execute its policies.

This is a strong bank, a helpful bank because it has ample resources, and a personnel of proven character and ability.
